Dear Sir:

I am writing to you in reference to Docket No. 92-90,
Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991.

"Cold" calling is very important to my business in particular and the residential real estate industry in general.

I would like to vote no on passing this legislation.

Telephone Consumer Protection
Act of 1991

In reference to the draft of a regulation to restrict person-to-person solicitations to residential homes, I just want to emphasize to you how vital cold calling is to the real estate industry in general and specifically to my business. It has always been one of the fundamental "tools of the trade."

Also, I have found that if correct techniques are applied, (and I can assure you they are by my office), these calls are met with general acceptance by the public.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

Gladys Blum, G.R.I., CRS

As a Real Estate Professional, I am not only concerned about the loss of contacts I might lose if this legislation is passed, it is also unfair to the general public. Real Estate cannot be put on the open market like other merchandise, and calling and talking to interested parties about the R.E. market is beneficial to the profession as well as the public. please give due consideration before passing such a draconian bit of legislation as the Telephone Consumer protection Act of 1991, Docket No 92-90.

Sincerely,

Charlaine Reed
